

Law of Occupation

A Modern and Historic Overview

MARCH 4, 2023

With the recent occupation of Ukraine, many are revisiting the knowledge gained from previous and ongoing occupation to determine how best to respond. As such, this is a dynamic time for the study of the law of occupation. This symposium is the preeminent venue for scholarly examination of and practitioner response to these seismic events and their impact on occupation law.

Speakers

Marco Longobardo, Senior Lecturer at Westminster Law School

Haider Hamoudi, Vice Dean at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law

Alexandre Prezanti, Partner at Global Dilligence

Anastasiya Donets, Advisor on International Accountability at International Partnership for Human Rights

Kenneth Watkin, U.S. Naval War College

Yael Ronen, Professor of Law at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Ardi Imseis, Assistant Professor at Queen's Law

Geoffrey Corn, Director of the Center for Military Law & Policy at Texas Tech University School of Law

Masahiko Kinoshita, Professor at Kobe University